

SYNERGIE

LEADER IN HUMAN RESOURCES MANAGEMENT

STEPS UP ITS PRESENCE IN THE UNITED KINGDOM

SYNERGIE, through its British subsidiary ACORN, has bought out the business assets of London-based firm ORACLE GLOBAL RESOURCING, thus extending its network coverage in the United Kingdom.

This entirely self-financed operation enables the SYNERGIE Group to be based in London, with two agencies, one in the heart of the capital, the other in the suburbs.

Potential annual sales are estimated at 20 million euros in the short term.

The acquired lines of business will enable Synergie to develop a customer base both in the industrial sector and in the service and distribution sectors, more particularly specializing in the railway sector, where investment projects in Great Britain over the next ten years are huge.
